

Topic 6: AI for Marketing Copy

6.1 Ad Copy with AI

- Google Ads headlines: max 30 characters; descriptions: max 90 characters -- constraints force clarity
- Meta / Facebook Ads: primary text (~125 chars shown before 'more'), headline (27 chars), description
- Always provide: product, target audience, key benefit, unique selling proposition (USP), and CTA
- Generate 10 variations quickly with AI and run A/B tests -- AI dramatically accelerates creative testing
- Check: ad copy must comply with platform policies -- AI may generate claims that violate ad guidelines

Google Ads prompt:

'Write Google Ads copy for a project management app.

Target: startup founders and team leads.

Key benefit: reduces time spent on status updates.

USP: AI-powered -- no manual updates needed.

Pain point: too many meetings and lost context.

Generate:

- 5 headlines (max 30 characters each, include the keyword 'project management')

- 3 descriptions (max 90 characters each, end with a CTA)'

6.2 Landing Page Copy

- Proven structure: headline (pain or gain), subheadline (how you solve it), social proof, features as benefits, CTA
- Prompt with: product description, target persona, main pain point, top 3 differentiators, CTA goal
- Hero section: 'Write 5 headline / subheadline pairs for a SaaS landing page focused on reducing admin time'
- Features to benefits: 'Convert these product features into customer benefits: [list your features]'
- CTA variations: 'Write 10 CTA button labels for a free trial signup -- avoid generic phrases like Sign Up'

6.3 Product Descriptions

- Include sensory details, use cases, materials, key specs, and benefits -- not just a list of features

- Tone adapts to product: luxury (exclusive, aspirational); tools (direct, benefit-focused); apparel (tactile, lifestyle)
- Generate at multiple lengths: 'Write 3 versions of this product description: 50 words, 100 words, 200 words'
- SEO-optimised descriptions: include the target keyword naturally; avoid keyword stuffing
- Batch generation: 'Write descriptions for all 20 products in this list: [paste product names and specs]'

6.4 Brand Storytelling

- Origin story: 'Write our brand origin story in 200 words: we started because [reason], our mission is [mission]'
 - About page: 'Write a compelling About Us page for a company that [what you do] for [who you serve]'
 - Mission statement: 'Write a concise mission statement and 3 core values for a company that [description]'
 - Customer success narratives: provide the raw facts and outcome; ask AI to structure as a problem/solution/result story
-